Love a good white wine? Ready to broaden your horizons and treat your taste buds with a vintners tour of Germany? In this experience, you and your guests can kick back with some folk music while enjoying selections of Mosel and other German wines. There's something for every taste, from sweet to dry!

The German winemaking region of Mosel has been active since AD 100 - when the art of wine was introduced by Roman settlers. The associated wines are known for their high acidity, tension, and dynamic energy. Argentina's signature Malbec grapes support the country's world leadership in wine consumption per capita rates. They're obviously doing something right!
